Commission proceeds with termination of Hickman City Manager Larry Myatt

Charlotte Smith
Editor

Failure to perform job duties and insubordination were the reasons given for the termination of City Manager Larry Myatt during a special called meeting of the Hickman Commission on Tuesday, Oct. 16. Mayor Pro-tem Phillip Williams presided over the meeting in the absence of Mayor David Lattus.

City Clerk Donna Haney read Preliminary Resolution 12-36 removing the City Manager from office as such and suspending him from further service.

After the resolution was read Commissioner Roger Adams asked why the reasons for removal stated in the resolution were not the same as what was stated in the Oct. 8 meeting. "I thought it was complaints," stated Commissioner Adams. He asked why it wasn't listed in the preliminary resolution.

City Attorney Leanna Wilkerson wrote the resolution with those two items after listening to what was said in the Oct. 8 meeting. "Those are the items she chose to list after covering what was said during the Commission meeting," stated City Clerk Haney.

Mayor Pro-tem Williams also noted that the minutes from the Oct. 8 meeting are part of the official record and would be included in any documentation and be official.

"I have had people ask me about it (Myatt's termination),"

Commissioner Adams commented, "and I don't know what to tell them."

"I just tell them the honest truth," stated Mayor Pro-tem Williams, "I think Larry tried and he cares but there are areas that he just couldn't do the job. Some people can, some people can't. At times he just didn't do the job. Whether it was not dealing with people or whatever it was in different situations. It just didn't happen, which I have had nobody complain to me."

"I haven't either. That's my question," said Commissioner Adams. "When people ask me I don't know what to tell them."

"I don't give them a reason," I just tell people that it was time for a change and we do what's best for the city," added Commissioner Williams.

Commissioner Adams felt if there were complaints it should have been brought to Myatt's attention and the entire Commission. "To go from nothing to firing," said Commissioner Adams. "They wouldn't do you that way at your job."

"Larry did not have the support of the people or the town," stated Commissioner Charles Choate. "He did not have the support of the business people."

"I haven't seen that," Commissioner Adams said.

Commissioner Choate noted that Commissioner Adams is Myatt's brother-in-law and that was why people wouldn't tell him.

Commissioner Choate added that he wasn't going into specific details about it, but did say, "The public has been overwhelmingly in support of the decision by this commission."

Commissioner Barbara Yandal said that she has received the same response from the people as Commissioner Choate.

Fourth grade students from Fulton County, Hickman County and Fulton Independent visited ten different stations with a connection to agriculture during the Fulton County Conservation District Annual Youth Ag Day. The event was held on Wednesday, Oct. 17 at Phillip Amberg's farm in Fulton County.

A total of 120 students spent approximately 20 minutes at each station learning about how agriculture is a major part in a lot of areas of their daily lives. Betty Workman with Hickman County Conservation District was the official time keeper.

Jackie Curlin, a representative from Hickman-Fulton Counties RECC discussed electrical safety with the children.

Soil erosion was talked about by Debbie Seltsam with the Kentucky Division of Conservation.

Chuck Murphy, Patricia Kelly, and Matt Russell informed the students that even the making of bubble gum comes from farmers. Murphy, Kelly and Russell represented River Valley Ag Credit.

Displaying a beaver hide Robert Hoffeman, representing Kentucky Fish and Wildlife, kept the students entertained with information on wildlife.

Bernita Cheirs solicited help from the students to make butter while they were at her station. She discussed dairy products and where they came from during the "butter churning process". Cheirs was representing the Fulton County Extension Service (FCES).

Also from the FCES was Cam Kenimer. Kenimer had a wonderful display of model tractors to share with the students as he discussed corn shelling. The students had the opportunity to shell some corn utilizing some of the equipment Kenimer provided.

Kentucky Division of Forestry representative was Dennis Woolard who discussed air, wind and other things with the students.

Ashley Hoffeman manned the Water Station showing how water affects many things on farms and even in their own yards. The students all received a bottle of water.

Farm bracelets were made by all students at Annell Goodwin's station sponsored by the Fulton County Conservation District.

Shane Joyner from Tyson brought baby chicks for the students to hold as they discussed

Charlotte Smith

Fulton County High School (FCHS) Senior Jeral Mack and several members of the student council addressed the school board on Thursday night, Oct. 18 seeking approval for an out-of-state trip. Twenty-four students have raised approximately $9,000 to take a trip to Florida for four days in April. They need to raise approximately $4,000 in additional funds to cover the cost of the trip.

Members of the school board were hesitant to approve the trip. Comments were made regarding previous senior trips that the board did not approve.

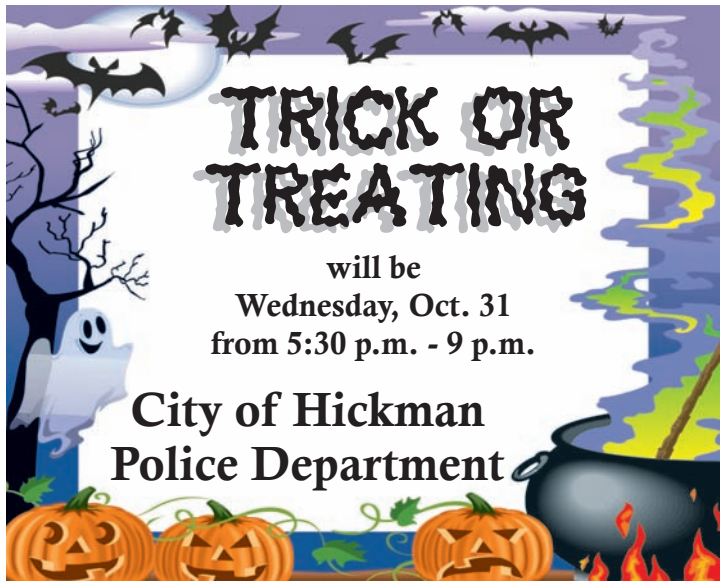

Superintendent Dennis Bledsoe did seek advice from Allison Whitedge, the board's attorney. "I believe legally it is a school trip and it needs our approval," stated Bledsoe. "The funds are coming out of a school controlled account, it is taking place during the school year, and it is an overnight trip out of state." Mr. Bledsoe and the board members informed the students and parents present that the items being discussed were legal issues of student safety, teacher safety and responsibility, transportation safety, board and school liability issues, and insurance coverage which did not reflect negatively on the students. Mr. Bledsoe stated, "This is the first time we (the board) have taken up a field trip request of this type and it will set the tone for future trips so we want everything to proceed legally, safely, and with adequate planning."

After hearing from the students and additional comments made by Supt. Bledsoe and FCHS Principal Tracey Lamb, the board gave their consent for the trip provided that the transportation question was answered and at least one male chaperone will be present. Lamb and Assistant Principal Ellen Murphy will be two of the female chaperones.

Certificates of Achievement were presented to Abby Miller, a FCHS senior, and Ricky Bagley, a FCHS junior. Miller was part of last year's yearbook staff that won first place in single page design/layout, second place in sports section, third place in section layout/design, and honorable mention in photography and student life section. Supt. Bledsoe praised the 11/12 SY journalism class and their teacher Deann Reed for excellence in journalism for

Sheriff's Office works two single motor vehicle accidents

Two accidents occurred in Fulton County over the weekend. The first happened on Saturday evening, Oct. 21. At approximately 8:43 p.m. the Fulton County Sheriff's Office (FCSO) responded to a single vehicle accident in the Brownsville Community on State Route 925. The 911 caller stated there was an accident in the area of 2373 St. Rt. 925, the Warren Hamil residence. There was a vehicle that had traveled deep into a gully and a female was screaming for help. Upon arrival the vehicle was found to be in a ditch across the roadway from the gully on its side.

The Fulton County Rescue Squad and Tri Cities Ambulance Service were also dispatched to the area.

The 17 year old female driver stated she had run into the ditch trying to avoid hitting a deer. The passenger, Craig Blankenship of Union City Tenn., received minor injuries to his face but refused transportation by the ambulance. The female also refused medical treatment by EMS personnel.

The vehicle, which belongs to Mr. Blankenship is a 2005 Dodge pickup truck that received minor damage to the front and passenger side. Deputies were on the scene for approximately 1 1/2 hours.

On Sunday, Oct. 22, at approximately 3:45 a.m., the FCSO was dispatched to a call in the lower bottom area about a black male with a firearm causing a disturbance at a residence. Upon the deputies arrival a search of the homeowner's property and surrounding area was conducted, no one was found.

An abandoned wrecked vehicle was found on its side in a cornfield at State Route 94 and Hamby Pond area. The driver of the vehicle could not be located. Through the vehicles registration the suspected driver was identified; he matched the description of the individual the deputies were looking for at the residence.

Once the wreck scene was searched and cleared the deputies patrolled the immediate

Brown family relocates here from West Virginia

My great-grandfather, Shadrack Brown, came to Fulton County, Ky., from West Va., what was then called Old Ky., in the 1700s. He purchased 2000 acres of land south of Hickman. In due time he donated land for the Brownsville Cemetery, where a number of his relatives are buried.

The little village, which consisted of one church, one store, and several houses, as now stands, was named Brownsville in honor of him. Shadrack Brown ran away to Texas when he thought he had killed a man, he returned to clear his name, went back to Texas where he died. He fathered three children — Loyd Brown, Henrette Brown Hamby, and Sarah Elizabeth Brown Bent, my grandmother (1841-1927). Sarah married James W. Benton (18 - 1916). They had Minnie Benton Craddock, Annie Benton Brown, Corbett Benton Clack, Tom Benton, Mollie Benton Dotson, Ella Benton, Lovie Benton Langford, and Mima Crockett Benton Bone. James W. Benton had one brother, Frank Benton, and other relatives in Ark. He was a cousin of President Abe Lincoln.

My mother, Mima (Sept. 2, 1880-1967) married 1897 Thomas H. Bone (April 25, 1875-Feb., 1954). Tom was raised by an uncle, Dick Cook. He had two sisters, Nannie Presley and Mollie Webb Hogg. Little is known of their parents. Twelve children were born. T. Henry Bone (July 1898 – 1914), Carrie Mae Bone Yates (Nov. 20, 1901-Oct. 4, 1982), James Edwin Bone (Dec. 11, 1903-June 4, 1971), Willis Marie Bone Andrews (Feb. 10, 1905-Aug. 1980), Monita Estelle Bone Babb (March 2, 1907), Gladys Benton Bone Walters (Dec. 23, 1909), Mildread Bone (Feb. 12, 1912-1915), Jack Howard Bone (June 2, 1914), Mima Bone (1916-died in few days), Mary Sue Bone McIlroy (March 23, 1918-1973), Charles Wilson bone (Jan. 15, 1920), Bette Lou Bone Maxwell (Nov. 14, 1922).

Remember those who have fought the battle of cancer

Balloons were purchased in memory of the following: Mrs. Brenda King's parents, Mrs. Donna Lattus, Mrs. Annie Brown grandmother of JaMaal Crumble, Mrs. Anna Terrett, Mr. Pat Lattus, Mr. Phillip Grissom, Mr. Bubba Johnson, Mrs. Julia Stewart, Mrs. Frances Alexander Henry, Mrs. Shirley Gouger, Mrs. Joyia Gaskins, Ms. Teeny Greer, Mr. Phil Slaughter, Mrs. Barbara Hunter, Mrs. Dorothy Evetts mother of Mr. Pete Morgan, Mr. Richard L. Balloons were purchased in honor the following survivors: Mrs. Agnes Williams, Mrs. Mildred Coulson, Mrs. Carol Russell, Mrs. Bobbie Shibe, Mrs. Judy Bateman, Mrs. Jo Grissom, Mr. Albert Dinwiddie, Mrs. Nicole Robertson, Mrs. Helen Wiggins, Mrs. Jackie Hopper, Mrs. Michelle Johnson, Mrs. Joyce Williams, Mr. Paul Werner, Mrs. Pat Ray, Ms. Ann Jones, Mrs. Teresa Henry, Mrs. Peggy Coleman, Ms. Mary Helen Mayfield, Ms. Melinda Cagle, Mrs. Ginger George Atkins, Ms. Marian Roberts, and Ms. Nancy Morgan. Balloons were also released in memory of Lane Goodwin who lost his battle against childhood cancer on Wednesday, Oct. 17 and in honor of Ms. Contrina Turner and Mrs. Denise Grissom. Turner personally fought breast cancer last year and Grissom is doing so this year. Both are doing well.

Steven Hawking hasn't noticed, but Planet Basketball has returned to its rightful orbit in the heavens. A coaches preseason college poll reflects no sight or sound from Tobacco Road as Indiana, Louisville and Kentucky rank 1-2-3.

Could only happen in a David Anspaugh fiction (Hoosiers), right?

Golden Triangle. IU, UofL and UK ... top-heavy on top actors-for-television coaches too. Along the sidelines who is more marathon-man than Tom Crean? More yappy than Rick Pitino? Or, as "I don't believe this!" facial as John Calipari?

On court ... The top ranked Hoosiers are a marvelous mix of home-boy savvy, experience, and refined skill. Schedule? IU has enough custard pies on its early card to keep Bobby Plump and pals happy through Thanksgiving, all on television of course. North Carolina visits Bloomington a week after.

Number 2 Louisville is loaded. Led by best point guard in America, senior Peyton Siva is straw to stir the drink. The Cardinals' non-league schedule is cream puffy too, but streamlined for December 29, then March.

Early road dates at College of Charleston, Memphis, and Western Kentucky in Nashville should prime the Cardinals for a Yum Center on CBS date with Kentucky, December 29.

Number 3 Kentucky's one-and-dones will be tossed into the college game to learn on the road early against Maryland, Duke and Notre Dame. A lone high profile home date: Baylor will be primer for Louisville, then the SEC.

Bottom line? First rankings are of little value beyond media armed best with a metaphor. But a return focus upon college hoops Golden Triangle makes for barbershop buzz about Bloomington-Lexington-Louisville once again.

All of which leaves ACC ga-ga to Vitale and Big Ten renaissance to Dan Dakich.

The long and arduous climb back to football legitimacy by Western Kentucky is still a breaking story. Failure to seize-the-moment opportunity is setback.

Coach Willie Taggart's reaction to his Hilltoppers' come-from-ahead loss to Louisiana-Monroe Saturday was fraught with what ifs and if onlys, followed by the expected pragmatism: "WE just can't go out and beat ourselves. It's on us. It's all on us."

WKU's 43-42 homecoming loss to Louisiana-Monroe brought to mind another reality.

Crucial to winning is smart play at the crunch, and expectation to succeed. Included also, keeping end result beyond a call by game officials. Against the visitors Saturday, the Hilltoppers played not to lose and the officials decided the outcome.

Western's realities ... √ Can't blow a three touchdown lead.

√ Can't allow a team to drive 98 yards in two minutes.

√ Can't be in a position where a kickoff return for a touchdown can be nullified by, according to Taggart, was on the other side of the field.

Next!
UK & JOKER PHILLIPS

What does football at Kansas State, Oregon State and Ohio University have in common with Kentucky? In years gone by all three were UK non-fodder before SEC foes.

Today, K-State, O-State and Ohio are 20-0 and ranked while Kentucky continues to flounder. UK took its annual whuppin' from Georgia last week as the defense made Bulldogs' quarterback Aaron Murray look like a Heisman candidate. Murray sliced and diced UK, 29 of 34 passes.

The Wildcats' pass rush scheme was anemic again and, to say the defensive backs play timid, even scared, is to be kind.

Still, Kentucky football doesn't need a head coach change as much as it needs a complete defensive overhaul. And a recruiter who can find a couple of big ole' omery defensive ends, and a durable and bullish running back who punishes linebackers instead of being punished.

SILVER LININGS

At Kentucky whoever recruited punter Landon Foster should be given a bonus and sent out to find more like the kid from Franklin, Tennessee. A true freshman, Foster is the SEC's fifth best punter averaging 43.1 yards and earning recognitions from the College Football Performance Awards, Foster averaged 44.5 yards on six punts last week, pinning Georgia inside its 20-yard line three times.

KNIGHT MEMORABILIA

Bob Knight is cashing in his personal memorabilia to leave cash for his grandchildren.

"Sports people are nuts," Knight said recently. "Look at how much they pay for Babe Ruth's cap or Honus Wagner's card? I guess these are people who want to own things, things that are the results of what someone else did in sports.

Knight has two grandsons, his wife has a niece and nephew.

"(They) would get good use out of this."

Seems to me, Knight's largess would amount to far more if he left his valuables to the kids outright.

WORTH REPEATING DEPT.

Rick Pitino got it right at the Big East meeting the other day. Referring to senior Peyton Siva, juniors Gorgui Dieng, Russ Smith, Luke Hancock and sophomore Chane Behanan, Louisville's coach said, "I'd much rather have players like this. A four-year player, a three-year player. If I could do what (Kentucky) could do, I certainly would want the talent they have. But I can't do (one-and-done). It's not in my make-up."

COMMENT. Kentucky fans won't admit it, but they would rather see juniors and seniors in Wildcat uniforms instead of just-passing-through 18-year-olds.

PARTING SHOT

Joke making the rounds in college basketball these days: How many UK basketball players does it take to change a light bulb? Answer: None. That's a sophomore course.

And so it goes.

Bulldogs. The Pilots waited until the second quarter to put their first points on the board on a defensive play. After that Senior Pilot Damontrell Pierce was relentless scoring five times for the boys in light blue jerseys and pink socks. Both offenses used the first quarter to find their groove, as each team's defense held their ground giving up no points. Pilot Octavious Smith had a big tackle on a Bulldog third and three play midway through the first quarter. The Bulldogs kept moving the ball closer to the Pilot end zone. A penalty on a first and goal play would push the Bulldogs back to the six. A fumble recovered by the Bulldogs also resulted in lost yardage and on fourth and 16 the Bulldogs failed to convert, turning the ball over on downs.

The Pilots next possession would also result in turning the ball over the Bulldog offense when their pass fell incomplete on fourth and eight with 1:54 to go in the quarter. With good field position the Bulldogs were back in control. Their offense would be stopped for no gain on a tackle by Matthew Bodon bringing up a third and 10 situation for the Bulldogs.

After a 12 yard gain to the 19-yard line the Bulldogs would fumble the ball, but get it back. On the next play they would fumble it again, this time Senior JaMaal Crumble would pick it up and run it all the way into the end zone for the Pilots first touchdown of the night with 11:03 to go in the second quarter. Penalized for unsportsmanlike conduct, the Pilots were unable to convert on the two-point conversion.

The Bulldogs took Aaron King's kick to the 43-yard line. A Bulldog pass attempt would be intercepted by Pierce. A personal foul penalty, this time on the Bulldogs, would put the ball on the two-yard line.

After a Fulton City time out, Pierce would punch it into the end zone putting six more on the scoreboard for the home team. Quarterback Damian Roach would connect with Crumble on the two-point conversion. With 9:07 to go in the half, the Pilots were now up 14-0.

The Bulldogs' offense was back on the field at the 35 yard line. After gaining five yards, a Pilot penalty would give the Bulldogs a first down on the 46-yard line. A pass play would result in another first down. After gaining nine yards on a running play, the Bulldogs were stopped by the Pilots bringing a third down and one situation.

A play up the middle would result in a first down for the Bulldogs, gaining six yards. On first and goal the Bulldogs put their first points on the board with 5:21 to go in the half. The two-point conversion was no good making the score 14-6 in favor of the Pilots.

Not content to give the ball to the Pilots with five minutes left in the half, the Bulldogs would attempt an onside kick, successfully taking possession of the ball on the 45-yard line. Neither team would score in the remaining minutes of the first half, but a penalty on the final play of the half would result in the Pilots getting one more try to score before heading into the locker room. On second and 19 Roach would gain some yardage, but couldn't break loose to score.

The Bulldogs would be on the offensive side of the ball to start the second half. They started moving the ball, but a fumble recovered by the Pilots would end the drive.

From the 28-yard line Pierce would score for the third time with 11:34 to go in the third quarter. Senior Mike McClerkin was open in the end zone, converting the two-point conversion, putting the Pilots up 28-6.

The Bulldogs continued to have some success moving the ball, but fumbled the ball away to the Pilots to end the drive.

An illegal block in the back would move the Pilots back after Pierce would gain yardage to the 39 yard line. On second and 22 Roach would be sacked for a loss and the Pilots would punt for the first time with seven minutes to go in the third quarter.

Starting from the 47-yard line the Bulldogs would move forward on a Pilot penalty for an illegal block in the back. After gaining another first down the Bulldogs would be cited for a penalty bringing first and 15. The Pilots' defense held strong, bringing up a third and eleven situation. After no gain, the Bulldogs decided to go for it fourth and 11.

An incomplete pass would give the ball back to the Pilots at the 25 yard line. Pierce would gain four yards. On second and six, Pierce would answer the call and run it all the way into the end zone from the 29-yard line for six more points. Roach would keep it himself and cross the goal line for the two-point conversion.

With 2:23 to go in the third quarter, the Pilots would attempt an onside kick, but the Bulldogs were ready or it. The boys in dark blue start from the 47-yard line. On third and three they would gain a first down on a reverse to close out the third quarter.

Gaining another first down the Bulldogs would punch it up the middle to the four yard line. On third and one they would score for the second time with 9:54 to go in the game. After crossing the goal line for the two-point conversion the Bulldogs moved within 22 of the Pilots, 36-14.

McClerkin takes the Bulldog short kick to the 42 yard line.

A big run by Senior Lakarian Johnson would be brought back on a holding penalty. From the 35 yard-line the Pilots' pass would fall incomplete when Roach failed to connect with Johnson. On the next play Pierce would answer the call and would take it all the way in on a 60-yard run Kentucky is an "At Will" state, not a "Right to Work" state and an individual can be fired on the spot.

Myatt does have a right to repeal his termination by the Commission.

Commissioners Choate, Yandal, and Williams all voted for the preliminary resolution with Commissioner Adams voting no.

Commissioner Choate noted that Commissioner Adams shouldn't vote on this matter because of his relationship with Myatt.

Commissioner Adams said that it pertains to immediate family, not in-laws.

The City ordinance addresses immediate family, not in-laws.

Both Commissioner Choate and Yandal sought advice from the Kentucky League of Cities and they said he "shouldn't vote."

"They said I shouldn't vote, not that I cannot vote," added Commissioner Adams.

"It's a conflict of interest," noted Commissioner Yandal.

Commissioner Adams' "no" vote on Oct. 8 did not change the outcome of the vote to terminate Myatt. It was a 3 to 2 vote and if Adams had abstained it would have been 3 to 1 in favor of terminating Myatt.

Editor's Note: In the October 11 issue of The Hickman Courier the article on the City Commission stated that Mayor David Lattus agreed with waiting for more information on county dispatch and that was not the case, he voted "No," when the Commission tabled the item.

TO THE CITIZENS OF CARLISLE, FULTON, GRAVES AND HICKMAN COUNTIES:

On February 18th, soon after my opponent announced his candidacy for First District State Senator, he, at breakfast with supporters and others in his hometown of Cadiz, said: "I'll have to work hard west of Murray. I've never in my lifetime been to Mayfield or those three river counties."

On June 5th, a Mayfield Republican drove my opponent around Graves County, showing him the many towns from Lynnoille and Water Valley to Lowes and Symsonia.

I have resided in Mayfield most of my life, and as you surely know, am very familiar with all of far Western Kentucky as your former U.S. Congressman for 18 years.

I'm the only candidate for State Senator who realizes that lack of good paying jobs in our area has to be and indeed is the number one issue in this campaign to be your next State Senator.

Kentucky drivers entering peak season for deer collisions

If asked to identify the most dangerous animal in the United States, most people, depending on where they live, would likely point first to a bear, mountain lion, alligator or even a shark. While those all seem like logical choices, statistics from the Insurance Information Institute reveal that the deadliest animal roaming the countryside is actually the white-tailed deer.

According to the Insurance Information Institute's estimates, each year across the nation white-tailed deer are responsible for tens of thousands of injuries and the deaths of approximately 150 Americans simply by causing car accidents. Those collisions also carry the hefty price tag of $4.6 billion annually in insurance claims. Nationally, Kentucky is considered a "medium risk" state for the likelihood of drivers colliding with deer, ranking 22nd overall last year in collision frequency. Data from the Kentucky State Police (KSP), however, shows that these collisions have defined seasonal peaks. More than 47% of all collisions with deer in Kentucky take place during the months of October, November and December.

Analysis by the Highway Loss Data Institute reveals that an average of 14.1 animal collisions per 1,000 drivers occurs nationally each November. Kentucky Farm Bureau (KFB) Insurance claims data shows that drivers statewide nearly doubled the national average in November of 2011, hitting deer on roadways at a clip of 28.05 per 1,000 drivers. As a result of those collisions, KFB Insurance customers filed more than $4.2 million in claims during November alone.

For the entire year of 2011, KSP data reports Kentuckians were in a total of 2,976 automobile collisions with deer, resulting in 146 injuries and three deaths. Approximately $19.6 million in KFB Insurance deer collision claims were filed in 2011, but nearly 45% of those claims resulted from accidents occurring in the three-month peak season of October, November and December.

"Looking at numbers historically we can easily predict deer collision claims are going to rise dramatically in the fall and peak in November," said Bill Reddington, KFB's Director of Actuarial Services, "but we are also careful to remember that these are not just numbers. These are real people experiencing real accidents. We hope that by calling attention to this annual spike in deer strikes we can increase driver awareness and help prevent tragedy on Kentucky's roads."

Why are deer seen and struck on the roadways more often during this time of year? These three months are also the peak season when deer are breeding, and the animals are less inclined to shy away from busy highways and speeding automobiles if other deer are nearby.

As October is now here, Kentucky's drivers are entering the peak three-month season for deer collisions. Motorists need to be aware of this hazard and recognize that they are twice as likely as usual to hit a deer on the road in the months of October and December. In November that probability climbs higher still as drivers in most Kentucky counties are three times as likely to collide with a deer on the road. Furthermore, there are 30 counties where drivers become four to seven times as likely to hit a deer during November's peak season.

With the anticipated jump in activity from deer found on the roadways, motorists should drive slower and be aware of their surroundings even more than usual. Deer are most likely to be seen at dusk and dawn near tree-lined roadways or areas that transitions from open fields to forest or water, but drivers must remember that deer are wild animals and often exhibit unpredictable behaviors when on or near road.

KFB advises motorists to drive defensively on the roadways this fall, especially when headed into wooded areas where deer are prevalent.

Tips to help drivers avoid deer collisions:

- Watch for deer crossing signs. These signs are posted to warn drivers that certain stretches of the road are commonly populated with deer. Do not ignore the warning.
- Be aware of the time. Deer are most commonly seen along roadways in the early morning and evening hours. Exercise additional caution if traveling during these times of day.
- When driving after dark, use high-beam headlights to increase the range of vision.
- If a deer is spotted on or near the road, slow down immediately.
- Don't swerve if a deer is in the road. Brake firmly but keep the vehicle headed in a straight line. A swerving vehicle can confuse the animal and prevent it from picking a direction to flee, and, worse yet, the driver could lose control and hit a tree or another car.
- Always wear a seatbelt. The Kentucky State Police says that most people injured or killed in automobile collisions with deer are not wearing seat belts.

Supplemental revenue assistance payments sign-up period for 2011 crop losses

Farm Service Agency State Executive Director John W. McCauley announced the sign-up period for the 2011 crop year Supplemental Revenue Assistance Payments (SURE) program opened Oct. 22, 2012 and end June 7, 2013. The SURE program authorizes assistance to farmers and ranchers who suffered crop losses caused by natural disasters occurring through Sept. 30, 2011.

"Any eligible producer who suffered losses during the 2011 crop year is encouraged to contact the FSA office to learn more about the SURE program and how to apply," said McCauley.

Production losses due to disasters occurring after Sept. 30, 2011, are not eligible for disaster program coverage.

To be eligible for SURE, a farm or ranch must have:

- At least a 10-percent production loss on a crop of economic significance;

- A policy or plan of insurance under the Federal Crop Insurance Act or the Noninsured Crop Disaster Assistance Program (NAP) for all economically significant crops;

- Been physically located in a county that was declared a primary disaster county or contiguous county by the Secretary of Agriculture under a Secretarial Disaster Designation.

Without a Secretarial Disaster Designation, individual producers may be eligible if the actual production on the farm is less than 50 percent of the normal production on the farm due to a natural disaster. A "farm" for SURE purposes means the entirety of all crop acreage in all counties that a producer planted or intended to be planted for harvest for normal commercial sale or on-farm livestock feeding, including native and improved grassland intended for haying.

Producers considered socially disadvantaged, a beginning farmer or rancher, or a limited resource farmer may be eligible for SURE without a policy or plan of insurance or NAP coverage.

For more information on the 2011 SURE program, visit any FSA county office or www.fsa.usda.gov/sure.

Tips for planting bulbs this fall

Source: Rick Durham, extension specialist in consumer horticulture

Fall is the time to think about all those flowers we associate with spring: daffodils, crocus, and other easy-to-grow flowering bulbs. If you aren't growing any spring-flowering bulbs in your landscape, you are missing out on some easy-to-grow plants that provide early color to your garden.

These bulbs are planted in fall because it corresponds to the end of their natural dormancy. Most of these plants begin root growth in fall, followed by a cool stratification period necessary for proper flower development and then shoot growth in late winter and early spring.

No matter which bulbs you select, remember that the largest bulbs will produce the greatest show next spring. However, smaller bulbs will still produce some flowers, and these may be the best choice for mass planting or naturalizing. Avoid any bulbs that feel lightweight as these may have severely dried during storage.

It's important to plant flowering bulbs at the proper depth, so inquire about plant depth at the nursery or follow the label directions. A light application of bone meal fertilizer at planting is often recommended, though probably not necessary. Most bulbs do not need fertilization until growth emerges in the spring. When you see plants emerging, apply 1 to 2 pounds per 100 square feet of a complete fertilizer (like 10-10-10).

Once flowering occurs, remove the faded blooms, but don't remove the foliage. The leaves produce sugars and other compounds necessary for the bulb to overwinter and bloom again the next spring. Most bulbs will enter dormancy in late spring or early summer and will renew growth, starting with the root system in the fall.

For more information on planting spring-flowering bulbs this fall, visit the Fulton County Cooperative Extension Service.

Educational programs of the University of Kentucky Cooperative Extension Service serve all people regardless of race, color, age, sex, religion, disability or national origin.

JUNIOR PILOTS 2012-2013 BASKETBALL PREVIEW

Improving Lady Junior Pilots field a team of eighteen

Charlotte Smith
Editor

With ten returning players as the nucleus of the 18-player roster, the Fulton County Lady Junior Pilots have been making positive progress in mastering the basic fundamental skills of the game. “We are focusing on becoming better individual and team players,” stated Head Coach Merry Williams. “We are improving with every practice.”

“I know 18 is a large number for a ball team” she added, “but the girls that made the team each deserved to be given the chance to play.” With a few junior varsity games on the schedule they will all get to have some quality playing time this year.

This year there are six eighth graders, eight seventh graders, and four sixth graders on the squad. With eighth grader Leslie Beth Jackson, along with Jekiya Warren being looked at to lead the team at point this year. “We will depend on them for handling the ball and executing our offense,” commented Williams.

Under the basket Williams looks for veteran Leah Weatherly and newcomer Detija Giles to gain control, both offensively and defensively. “We will look to them to dominate the boards for rebounding and scoring in the paint,” she said.

“We will look to Alley McMillin and Alana Coffey for outside shooting.” They have been working during the offseason to become better outside shooters.

“Transfer student Kylira Williams is going to be a great addition to this team,” noted Williams. “Kylira, along with Shelby Morris and Jackson, will be our key players defensively this year. We hope to put up points quickly by scoring off their steals.” Williams wants to utilize their quickness and excellent ability at putting pressure on their opponents to achieve this goal.

“Alexus Tacker is an eighth grader who we can count on to come off the bench and create some big plays for us,” Williams noted.

“One of our goals for this season will be to be more aggressive on the floor offensively and defensively,” continued Williams. “We have got to look to score more this season and I believe we have a very capable team this year.” Still evaluating her players with four days left before the girls travel to Community Christian Academy for their first contest of the season, Williams has yet to decide on her starting five. “Our team has so many capable players this year,” remarked Williams. “It is difficult to choose the starters. We have a lot of experienced girls and some new talent this year.”

Williams plans to put the best team on the floor based on the opponent and strategy per game. “I may have a different set of five each game. I want to put a starting five together who wants to play, can play well together and has a good attitude.”

Williams and Assistant Coach Melissa Kinney will take what they see in the remaining practices to finalize their decision for the first game. “Once the season starts,” we will continue to evaluate them in practice to determine our starting five to put up our strengths against our opponents.”

Williams looks to compete with all the teams in the district this season. “All the teams in the district have some good talent returning,” she said. “I want us to be the team to beat this year.”

Also on the squad are Daisy Major, Precious Thomas, Jocelyn Mosley, Jada Beth Mathews, Savannah Roberts, Karlie Williams, Delaynee Cermak, Alaya Barnett and Zaria Ervin.

The first game of the season begins at 5 p.m. on Monday, Oct. 29 at Community Christian Academy.

With a win and have fun attitude Junior Pilots Boys Basketball Coach James Bridges is looking forward to a great year. “We will have some new faces on the court this year,” he said. “I believe the direction of the team is going great and the players will do just fine.”

Heading up the offense will be eighth grader Davis Major and seventh grader Dre Smith. “I believe the leader on offense will be Davis, but our point guard will be Dre. He will lead the ball up the court for us.”

Under the basket Bridges is looking for some scoring from newcomer Jake Russell, an eighth grader. On the perimeter he sees Smith putting up some shots and Major will continue to be the threat from three-point range.

When the team needs a steal, rebound or a blocked shot eighth grader Nataven Bransford will be one of the ones to step up and make the play, according to Bridges.

With a few days to go before their first game on Monday, Oct. 29, at Community Christian Academy with a 5 p.m. start time, Bridges was still evaluating his players to fill the five starting positions. “Not ready to name the starting five yet,” he said. “We are going from day-to-day to start the season.”

“I will be counting on DJ Virgin, Charlie Riffe and Dylan Williams to go in off the bench and give us a spark when we need it,” he said.

With a strong team of eight eighth graders, three seventh graders and three sixth graders Bridges is confident his team will be a contender in the First District, along with the Junior Comets of Carlisle County.

Those two teams will meet up for the first time at Carlisle County on Thursday, Nov. 8.

Dr. Freeman shares recent improvements in the fight against breast cancer

By: Andrew Freeman, D.O.

This year alone, more than 178,500 American women will be diagnosed with invasive breast cancer and about 40,000 will die. While doctors and scientists are still working toward a cure, they are making progress in fighting this deadly disease. Breast cancer death rates have dropped in recent years thanks to early detection, new technology and improved treatments.

Dr. Andy Freeman

Early detection is one of the most important factors in the lowering breast cancer fatality rates. Though the chance of a woman having breast cancer during her life is one in eight, the chance of dying from breast cancer is only one in 33. If the cancer is found before it spreads to other parts of the body, it is much easier to treat. Therefore, it is recommended that women perform breast monthly self-examinations beginning at an early age. When women know how their breasts usually feel, they can more easily detect unusual lumps early and report them to a physician.

According to the National Breast Cancer Foundation, women in their 20s and 30s should also receive a clinical breast exam from their doctor every three years while women age 40 and over should have a clinical breast exam and a mammogram, a type of x-ray for the breast, every year. Women with relatives who have had breast cancer should begin getting mammograms five years before that relative was diagnosed, as breast cancer can be passed down genetically.

Scientists have also identified genes associated with a higher risk of breast cancer and are able to track these genes. In the future, the ability to foresee the likelihood of a person developing breast cancer will become more of a reality, leading to earlier detection and increased survival rates.

Doctors are exploring different ways of examining the internal structure of the breast to detect cancer. Though none have proven as effective as high-quality mammography, many different types of images are helping doctors learn more about the causes of breast cancer, the way it spreads and new treatments. Mammograms are less effective for young women and women who are pregnant because they have denser breasts that could more easily hide a tumor. For these women, an MRI, an internal imaging system that uses magnetic waves, is sometimes recommended in conjunction with a mammogram. A breast ultrasound is also often used to determine if a lump is a cyst or a solid mass. After other tests indicate the possibility of breast cancer, a biopsy may be performed to determine if the lump is cancerous. During a biopsy, a sample of tissue is removed and the cells are tested for cancer.

As technology has improved, so have breast cancer treatments. Where once a mastectomy to remove the entire breast was the only surgical option for breast cancer, doctors now routinely perform lumpectomies, leaving the breast intact. Combination chemotherapy, the use of multiple drugs to combat breast cancer, is now standardized practice and less experimental.

While improved technology has led to better outcomes for breast cancer patients, the best tool in early detection is a woman's familiarity with her own body and medical history. Women should talk to their doctors about the correct way to perform a monthly breast self exam and discuss any incidence of cancer in her family's history. A physician can assess risk factors and develop a strategy for early intervention when necessary.

Yearly mammograms detect Williams breast cancer in early stages, on the road to recovery

"It knocks you for a loop when you first find out," stated Joyce Williams, of Hickman. Williams was diagnosed with breast cancer in September 2011 following a couple of mammograms and an ultrasound at Parkway Regional Hospital. The cancer was detected in the right breast and was 8 millimeters in size in the first stages.

Joyce Williams

"I was very faithful with having a mammogram every year," she said. "I even made sure my children got one, too."

When Williams' lumpectomy was performed, her doctors also removed one lymph node. "Dr. Daniel Howard, in Paducah, could tell by looking at it that it was cancerous," she said. "They didn't have to do a biopsy." Thankfully, no cancer was found in the lymph node.

Before finding out that she had breast cancer, Williams did notice a moderate weight gain and her breathing was beginning to be labored. "I just thought it was from the weight gain," she said about her difficulty breathing.

After her surgery Williams began her 16 rounds of harsh chemotherapy treatments of Adriamycin/Cytosan at Lourdes Hospital in Paducah. That's when her energy level decreased. "I felt drained," Williams said. "I was somewhat sick. As long as I took my meds when I felt it coming on I didn't throw up like some people."

A couple of treatments in Williams noticed that her hair started to fall out. "I called a friend when it first happened and they took care of me," she said. "They came and shaved my head." This prompted her son and nephews to shave their heads to show their support.

"I became known for my many hats," she said. "I wore a lot of them. Some of them were given to me that displayed cancer logos on them."

The sixteen rounds of chemotherapy was followed by four treatments of Taxol. "Taking Taxol resulted in growing new finger nails," she said.

One rough patch occurred in January. "I was hospitalized when my blood count dropped and I had a bad case of bronchitis," she said. "I needed two pints of blood."

Through it all, Williams said her family and friends have been very supportive. "They have all been great," she said. "All my kids live out of town but they were all here the day I had my surgery. My daughter, Michelle, stayed with me for a week, taking time off of work."

Friends Linda Miller and Roxanne Huffstutter check on her from time to time. "All my friends were kind and helpful," she noted. "When people saw me they would ask if I needed anything."

For the most part, even though at times it was rough and some things snow balled during Williams' experience with cancer, she has been very pleased with all of her doctors.

"The Health Department has been fabulous. Dr. Howard, Dr. Cronkite and Dr. Winkler have been so good to me," she said. "I did cry at times and wonder why this happened to me, but I have been pretty lucky, too."

She still has routine visits with her doctors every three to six months and will be taking Aridex for five years. "They won't say I am cancer free until I finish my five years on the pill I take every day," she said. "I have some scar tissue that they are keeping an eye on, too."

Her next doctor's appointments are in November with Dr. Winker and Dr. Howard in December. They are keeping a close watch on her.

"I now tell everyone that I know how important it is to have a mammogram every year," she said. "I am also a big supporter of anything that promotes cancer awareness."

With no cancer in her family history, it is possible that Williams' cancer is a result of taking hormones. "They said it could be hormone grown," she said. "The only medical conditions in our family history are diabetes and heart trouble, no history of breast cancer."

She might not be cancer free yet, but Williams is definitely on the road to recovery, both physically and mentally. "Everything has been good so far," she reflected. "It is so important to keep the faith."
